

WHO IS ISOCNZ?

ISOCNZ is a non-profit society established in 1995 to foster coordinated and cooperative development of the Internet in New Zealand. We also work to safeguard the Internet's philosophy of open and uncensored exchange of information.

We're an independent body. We're not allied to any particular section of the industry. We're open to anyone who wants to influence Internet evolution.

ISOCNZ is a leading commentator on Internet issues, representing member views to politicians, industry influencers and the media. We guide development of Internet policy, oversee use and expansion of the New Zealand domain name space and guard Internet standards.

Our membership includes Internet service providers, web designers, public information groups and Internet users. ISOCNZ owns The NZ Internet Registry Ltd, which manages the nz domain name space and trades as Domainz.
